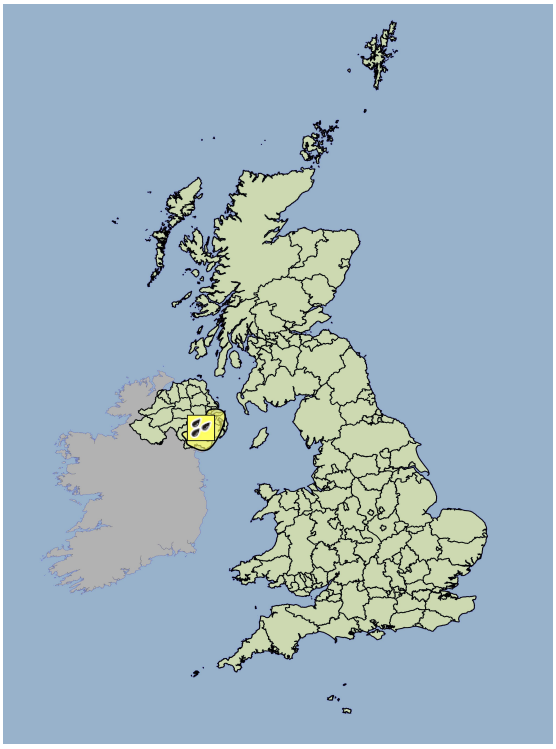
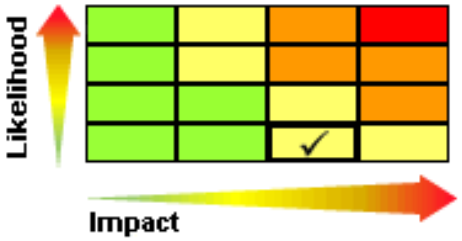
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
A front moving slowly through the area will bring persistent rain on Saturday followed by another spell of heavier rain on Sunday, when rainfall totals are likely to exceed 40 mm in places, mainly over hills.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Alert of Rain

Valid from 06:00 on Sun, 03rd Jan 2016 until 22:00 on Sun, 03rd Jan 2016

Outbreaks of rain, heavy at times, will affect Northern Ireland during the weekend, with a particular focus during Sunday. Counties Down and Armagh along with the Belfast area are expected to see the most persistent rainfall and thus highest accumulations.

Given recent wet weather, be aware of an increased risk of both surface and river flooding as well as some local disruption to transport.
